FINANCIAL SERVICES GUIDE (FSG)

THE PURPOSE OF THE FINANCIAL SERVICES GUIDE

Our Financial Services Guide aims to help you understand who we are and our advice process, so you can decide if our services suit your needs. We strongly recommend you read and understand this FSG before you engage us to provide you with any financial services. If you have any questions, please contact us.

It also explains how we're paid and the process available to you in the event of a dispute. It also enables you to check for any potential conflict of interest. It is part of our Australian Financial Services Licence (AFSL) obligations, making you aware of our services and costs at the earliest point. Of course, it doesn't replace any written advice we give you. If you'd like any other information, please ask.

WOTHERSPOON
WEALTH _____

WHO WE ARE & WHAT WE DO

We offer independent investment advice, working with people to optimise and retain their wealth with tax effective, prudent investing. In working with you, we'd first understand your current situation and clarify your goals. Then we'd discuss and agree on strategies to best meet those goals. Later, we could implement any resulting decisions to put your financial plan into action, with ongoing service to keep it on track.

To do all this, Wotherspoon Wealth is authorised to advise and deal in any of the following:

- interest paying deposits
- debentures, stocks or bonds issued or proposed by a government
- securities, including ASX listed securities
- managed investment schemes (listed or unlisted)
- superannuation
- retirement savings accounts
- standard margin lending facilities
- life insurance products

Our AFSL obligations include stringent requirements in areas like: staff training, organisational competence, management expertise, financial control and compliance.

Who is responsible for the advice?

Your Adviser is a representative of Wotherspoon Wealth Pty Ltd, which holds an Australian Financial Services Licence (No. 345 282).

Your Adviser acts on behalf of Wotherspoon Wealth, which is responsible for your financial service and any advice. For specific information about your adviser, please refer to the Adviser Profile.

Ownership

All the services offered in this guide are provided by Wotherspoon Wealth Pty Ltd, a privately owned family company. We have no affiliation or ownership links to any financial institution or product provider - it avoids potential influence on our recommendations.

Our ownership and remuneration arrangements are structured to offer advice that serves your interests only. Wotherspoon Wealth was until February 2015, known as Astute Investing - only the name changed.

THE ADVICE PROCESS

Gathering information about you

In our first meeting we'll ask you about your current circumstances and objectives so we can get a clear picture. If you prefer not to provide this, it will limit our ability to give you appropriate advice. Fortunately, this issue rarely arises because all your information is confidential and we're creating a relationship of trust. Once your initial advice is agreed and implemented, please advise us of any changes that might affect our future advice so we can optimise it.

What do we expect from you?

We expect that you'll provide us with accurate information that we request, so we can provide advice that is in your best interests.

Advice documents

Your written record of our advice is called a 'Statement of Advice' (SoA). This document provides clarity and fulfils our AFSL obligations. It sets out our advice, the basis for it and any relevant disclosure about fees, commission and associations. As a fee-only practice, we avoid any commissions to prevent conflicts of interest. The SoA takes into account your financial situation, needs, objectives and initial advice - including any significant change in your circumstances. It can also cover any potential conflicts of interest you should be aware of when deciding whether to rely on our advice.

For further ongoing advice on minor issues that doesn't involve significant change we may use a shorter form of advice called a Record of Advice (RoA). You may request a copy of this RoA up to 7 years after your adviser provides that further advice.

A Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) is an offer document that provides information about a financial investment or product - its features, benefits, fees and associated risks.

It enables you to make an informed investment decision. A PDS must be given to you in connection with any initial offer or recommendation to invest in managed funds, superannuation products or insurance based products.

For some financial products like shares and debentures, we may give you a prospectus instead of a PDS. For ASX listed investments, we provide an investment summary.

Risks associated with the advice

Your Adviser will explain any risks associated with implementing our recommendations and your written SoA should also cover this. However, please ask your Adviser to clarify any risks you don't understand.

How to instruct or contact us

You can decide how you wish to contact us or give us instructions (phone, fax, email or in person at our office). Our contact details are at the front of this guide.

INDEPENDENT ADVICE

In Australia, many advisory firms are influenced by product providers and over 80% of investment flows into the 4 major banks and AMP. Is this likely to offer the best result?

The concept of 'independent investment advice' is generally not well understood. It's a legally protected term meaning we're not owned or influenced by any product provider and we're paid only by our clients.

It's more than just being independently owned and avoids influence in product choice, minimising potential conflict of interest.

OUR REMUNERATION

Wotherspoon Wealth is remunerated only from the fees you pay us, so there is no doubt we work in your interest. We receive no commissions, brokerages or placement fees but where it's in your interest, we can receive brokerage and credit it back to your bank account. We simply aim for the best way to achieve your objectives, reducing your costs where it's sensible to do so.

Our fees are always expressed including GST - We will vary them only in agreement with you.

How our Advisers are paid

Our advisers are paid by salary package - up to 35% of the client fees they advise upon. It aligns their interest with yours and helps them behave like owners, since you effectively pay them. Their remuneration covers salary, leave, long service leave, superannuation, insurance and other benefits. If an Adviser owns a share in Wotherspoon Wealth Pty Ltd, it's disclosed in their Adviser Profile - it can create dividends and growing share value. Some Advisers are paid salary with no revenue-based component.

Complimentary first meeting

Our first meeting with you is without cost so we can understand your needs, see whether we can be of benefit to you and if so, which of our services suits you best. We'll obtain specific information about your circumstances so we can tailor subsequent advice for you. You should not act on any representations made during this first meeting.

Our considered personal advice to you will eventually be set out in a Statement of Advice (SoA). Before proceeding, we'll discuss and agree with you on the most suitable ongoing care service and fees for your situation.

Plan preparation fee

Our fee to prepare your Financial Plan (SoA) is usually $2,970 incl. GST but can range up to $5,500 incl. GST.

This SoA provides a foundation upon which to build future advice and we'll agree its cost with you beforehand.

Some fees may be tax deductible but you should confirm this with your professional tax adviser. As part of this SoA we can provide a quote for any Ongoing Care, see below.

We find clients want a blend of strategic advice and portfolio advice, all in an ongoing way. To suit their varying situations, we offer the following annually renewable advice services/fees:

1. Continuing advice fee

Clients with larger portfolios usually seek our continued advice to optimise their wealth, adjust for life changes and stay abreast of legislative and market shifts. Apart from thorough annual reviews, it includes quarterly investment reviews with monitoring and advice on corporate actions relating to ASX securities.

A signed Continued Care Service Agreement clearly defines these services, fees involved and the expectations of both parties. It assumes willing participants and is non-binding.

Our Continued Care fee is quoted each year on the expected work, then re-quoted annually.

As a guide, this fee generally ranges from $5,500 to $15,000 p.a. incl. GST, depending upon complexity.

All fees are agreed in advance. As part of our annual review each year, we will confirm your wish for us to keep providing advisory services to you via a review notice and agreement. This process quotes our advice fee for the year ahead.

If it is in your best interests to invest in something that pays us a commission that we can't avoid receiving, we'll credit it to your account.

Unlike most stockbrokers, we do not receive commission from investing in floats or 'capital raising' for listed securities.

We just offer personally tailored advice solutions, continually refined in regular discussion with you.

2. Annual Care fee

Clients with smaller 'accumulation' portfolios may seek our ongoing advice to optimise their wealth while adjusting for legislative, market and life changes.

For a lower fee commensurate with their ability to pay at this early saving stage, we offer an 'Annual Care' review service. It's an annual review while monitoring investments that need less attention during the year.

A signed Service Agreement clearly defines the services, fees and the expectations of both parties.

That Annual Care fee is also quoted for the work involved and adjusted at each Annual Review - typically $3,465 p.a. incl. GST.

Further information about fees

You can request further information about our remuneration.

OTHER FEES AND SERVICES

For clients seeking occasional advice, we work on a consulting basis. Perhaps you're seeking life insurance only, have a small portfolio or just starting to save. We may reduce our fee and service to better match your ability to pay. We describe this as 'Financial Coaching' (see below).

Occasional advice - financial coaching

Younger clients can find occasional advice more suitable than ongoing service. In this Financial Coaching we offer general advice, execution only and/or placement facilities once we've created a Financial Plan. Our fee, based on our $375 incl. GST/hour rate will be discussed and agreed with you at the time. As always our fee means we work to minimise other costs for you, aiming to give you the best outcome.

Incidental fees for other administrative services may be paid to others and where they apply, we disclose and agree them with you beforehand. For example:

Buying or selling securities listed on the Australian Securities Exchange:

We do this through third party wholesale stockbroking arrangements and for our ongoing care clients, this cost including GST is 0.11% of the transaction involved, subject to a $20 minimum brokerage (whichever is greater).

If investments are held in a Wrap administration service, their transaction fee is instead of the above brokerage. All transaction fees will be detailed in the relevant Product Disclosure Statement. None of these transaction fees are paid to us.

We'll discuss and agree transaction costs prior to execution for any investments not included in the funds under advice in our signed service agreement.

Product issuer and wrap provider fees

We use managed funds and Wrap accounts sparingly but most managed investments have ongoing fees and costs associated with them. We'll consider such costs when recommending them and they're outlined fully in each Product Disclosure Statement (PDS).

In some cases, we can't avoid receiving initial or ongoing commission from a particular product provider. Mostly these can be rebated to you at source but if not, we'll credit them later to your account and this will be disclosed to you in your SoA and the relevant PDS (or other offer document).

For investments held in an administrative Wrap service, transaction fees payable to them may also apply. These will be detailed in the relevant PDS.

Our overall aim is to minimise your costs while obtaining attractive outcomes.

Life insurance

Our overall strategic advice about life insurance may form part of your SoA. An extra fee to research and arrange any insurance will be quoted to you if more detailed work is needed.

Where we arrange life insurance policies for you, we reduce your premium cost by omitting commission from the quote or refunding it from the insurer.

Commission typically adds 43% to underlying premiums, so this can offer you significant savings - full details about this will be in your personalised report.

SMSF administration

In addition to our normal investment and strategic planning advice, we offer self-managed superannuation fund (SMSF) administration and compliance support. This is only available to our investment clients. By delegating this task to us, you can spend more time on other things with peace of mind while monitoring your fund via our website.

It differs from the traditional approach of a yearly visit to your accountant where monitoring your fund's compliance with superannuation law and mail-handling during the year is totally your responsibility.

Instead, we do all the day-to-day administration and compliance work for your fund, receiving all its paperwork, sending on anything that needs your decision with our recommendation.

Our $3,420 incl. GST fee annually for this SMSF work covers administration, tax return preparation, tax & annual return lodgment, independent audit, online reports and technical support.

Other fees may apply. Ask us for more detail and a SMSF brochure.

INVESTMENT RISK

Investment values can't be guaranteed and most investments can rise and fall in value.

This can often result from broad market movements, but also from specific investment issues regardless of market conditions.

Investments can be affected by political, economic, taxation, environmental or legislative changes.

Understanding the scale and type of risk involved in different investments is important, so your portfolio should meet your objectives and income needs.

Your Adviser will take care to recommend adequate diversification and quality investments but Wotherspoon Wealth and your Adviser cannot guarantee the performance or the return of capital

AVOIDING RISK OF CONFLICT

Potential conflicts of interest

We offer independent investment advice in a fee-only approach, so our client fees and staff remuneration aim to avoid conflicts of interest.

From the fees you pay us, Advisers can receive salaries, bonuses, a share of revenue and other benefits.

Soft dollar benefits

The ASX, Fund Managers, Research providers, Wrap service providers and others we may work with for your benefit, occasionally offer training assistance and resources to your Adviser. These inform, rather than influence.

Wotherspoon Wealth and its Representatives occasionally receive non-cash benefits with a cash value less than $300. Details of benefits between $100 and $300 will be maintained on a register. These are usually incidental seminars and meals while researching products or receiving training.

Such benefits will normally be one off and will not be received from a product provider on a regular basis.

Referrals

When clients are referred to us by another person (accountant, solicitor, etc), we don't normally pay them a fee or reward. Their motive is typically a mutual desire for high quality advice. If there is something like this to disclose, we'll do so in your Statement of Advice. Our relationships with other professionals are based on our respect for their work and values. If we refer you to them, it will normally be on that basis only - without remuneration.
